All is Not Harmony in Republican Circles, But Muffler is Functioning

David Lawrence Calls Attention to Violent Row Raging Within the Party Which May Thwart Renomination of President Harding—World Court Issue Is Relegated to Subordinate Position in Proposed Party Platform

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 5—If one is to accept surface impressions as fact, there is a violent row inside the Republican party which may thwart the renomination of President Harding.

But surface impressions are inaccurate Chairman John T. Adams, of the Republican national committee has not broken with President Harding Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the committee has not indicated his intention of resigning this summer. And so far as Mr. Harding is concerned he has not indicated to anyone that he is dissatisfied with the course of Chairman Adams or that he wants the resignation of either Mr. Adams or Mr. Upham.

So much for the facts But it would be camouflaging the truth to say all is well in the ranks of the Republican party All isn't well. And that's why Chairman Adams is busy His object is not to promote or intensify the discord that already exists but to cure it or at least quiet the noise of controversy. Unfortunately the Democratic national committee isn't letting the opportunity go by to poke fun at the Republicans and to prevent them from getting together.

The Adams plan is a simple

Men Like 'Nice Girls,' Believes Social Leader

Kind That Still Knows How to Blush, Is Mrs. York's Opinion

SOME TOO BLASE

Many Haven't Courage to Avoid Bad Influence, She Says

By LUTHER A. HUSTON

LONDON, June 5—A nice girl, according to the Hon. Mrs Claud Yorke, is one who "is still capable of that strange physical feat which is almost extinct as the capacity to move our ears—the blush."

And it is still the "nice" girl, according to Mrs Yorke, who is one of London's best known society leaders, who is the favorite of men. It is about her that "all the love stories in the world have been written" and to her that "poets have sung their sweetest songs" Therefore, Mrs. Yorke declares, the modern girl should not regard the appellation of "nice" as a handicap

"Every era has its fashions in women," said Mrs. Yorke, but none of us can remember any such curious fashion as has produced the women of today. What is that fashion?

"As far as I can judge it is one in which everything is permitted

British Naval Supremacy Is Much Mooted

Experts Maintain Britannia No Longer "Rules the Waves"

PRESTIGE GONE

Study of Statistics Proves Relative Value of Ships

By DAVID M. CHURCH.

LONDON, June 5.—Great Britain has lost her supremacy at sea, some naval experts declare, while others equally well known in naval circles maintain that "Britannia still "rules the waves"

The admiralty has published the figures and you may draw your own conclusions The official figures show that Great Britain maintains her lead in light cruisers and is outclassed by the United States in the number of battleships and submarines Right here is where the argument begins One school of naval experts maintains that the batleship is still the supreme naval fighting machine, whereas another school holds the battle ship as obsolete and favors the light cruiser as the most effective naval weapon. The dispute probably will never be settled until an

HARDING ADDRESSES SHRINERS, TAKES RAP AT THE KLAN

WASHINGTON, June 5 A wish that the spirit of fraternity that is embodied and taught in the "lodges" of America might be transplanted in all the nations of the world, was uttered here today by President Harding in an address of welcome to the imperial council of the Shrine convention

"I wish somehow that we could have fraternity among nations, as it is taught in America among men I do not mean to employ sign, grip and password, which afford an appealing mystery to our relationship but the insistent demand for just dealing, the respect of the rights of others and the ideals of brotherhood recited in the Golden Rule and the righteous fellow relationship which every man knows his God approves

Under such a reign of fraternity, cruel human warfare would never come again"

The president wore the red fez of the Shriners as he spoke, surrounded by the council gay in their colorful trappings of Shrinedom His hearers were limited to those of the imperial council, meeting in a downtown theatre He had not finished review[illegible] 25,000 Shriners in one of the most colorful parades ever staged on historic Pennsylvania av

WASHINGTON, June 5—Twenty-five thousand nobles of the Mystic Shrine passed in review before Noble Warren G Harding, of Aladdin Temple Columbus, Ohio, here this morning in one of the greatest and most colorful parades that ever marched down historic Pennsylvania av

For three solid hours the wearers of the red fez passed down the avenue from the capitol to the whitehouse, and the "Garden of Allah" where the president and Sunny Jim McCandless, the order's imperial potentate, held forth.

One hundred and ten bands kept the nobles in step Seventy five oriental bands brot a breath from the "hot sands," sixty drum corps filled in the momentary interims, and seventy five glee clubs raised their voices in praise of the Shrine, the president and the national capital.

The parade of the Shriners more than anything else resembled the rainbow. Each of the 119 temples presented a slightly different color arrangement in their uniforms, but all were alike in that they presented the brightest and most vivid colors

Conservative estimates placed Washington's guests at 200,000 up to this morning with a continuous stream still flowing in and of this number, added to the city's population of 475,000 fully half were on the avenue

Rail Labor Board Not Likely to Survive

Samuel Rea. INT'L.

Open defiance of the Railroad Labor Board by the Pennsylvania Railroad, coupled with the fact that the Board apparently has accepted this defiance in meekness and humility has led official Washington to believe that the Board cannot endure much longer. The official execution, according to plans now being perfected by its enemies, will take place soon after the new Congress convenes Labor is bitter because of the manner in which the Board has accepted the flat refusal of Samuel Rea, Pennsylvania president to abide by that body's decisions, and its spokesmen have pointed out that when rail shopmen refused last year to accept an award lowering their wages the Board branded the shopmen's organizations as "outlaws"

MRS. BUTLER'S TERRIBLE PAINS

Vanished After Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

W. Philadelphia, Pa. — "When I cleaned house last April I must have overlifted, for after that I had pains and aches all the time and was so discouraged I could hardly do my own housework, and I could not carry a basket of groceries from the store nor walk even four or five squares without getting terrible pains in my back and abdomen and lower limbs. I went to visit a friend in Mt. Holly, N. J., and she said, 'Mrs. Butler, why don't you take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My husband said that if it did her so much good for the same trouble, I should try it. So I have taken it and it is doing me good. Whenever I feel heavy or bad, it puts me right on my feet again. I am able to do my work with pleasure and am getting strong and stout."—Mrs. CHARLES BUTLER, 1233 S. Hanson St., W. Philadelphia, Pa.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

If Your Back Aches or Bladder Bothers, Take a Little Salts

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness, and a general decline in health

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

"Murder, murder—send police," came the call over telephone to Columbus police headquarters, in an excited woman's voice.

Twelve officers piled into an auto and dashed to the scene.

Mrs. Charles Berken, who had made the call, admitted them and said "Hist."

After the cops had "histed," Mrs. Berken said, "Turn out the lights and I'll tell you about the murder."

Just then the phone rang, "That's them. Out in the back yard. They'll kill us all," Mrs. Berken shouted.

A search of the yard revealed nothing Then they searched the house and found an old man in a back room. The old boy flourished a double-bitted ax and defied the officers to enter.

Mrs. Berken finally explained that it was the old man who had been "murdered," and the "murderers" were after some money he was said to have buried in the back yard.

Two Generations of Service

Many a grandfather can easily remember the early tank wagons of The Standard Oil Company (Ohio). These venerable forerunners of the modern motor tank would be far from adequate today. Yet the service they rendered met the needs of that early period uncommonly well and soon built a wide and lasting popularity.

Today the service of this Company is State-wide. Tank wagons and trucks running out from 300 convenient bulk stations serve every village and farming community. And more than 400 automobile service stations are operated in 150 Ohio cities to meet the motorists' needs.

Today Red Crown Gasoline. Polarine Motor Oils and Greases and other Standard Petroleum products are the best that over fifty years of experience have taught us how to produce.

We have the equipment, we have the refining ability—and our record shows that we have the will to meet modern day needs as fully as we have met those of the past.

5 Grades Polarine Motor Oils

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to insure correct lubrication of every type of motor. Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Greases provide perfect lubrication of all transmission units. And the Polarine Chart of Recommendations is a quick sure guide to the proper grade for every part of your car.

Through the Alleghenies

The Pennsylvania Railroad System carries annually seventeen per cent of the total passenger traffic and twelve per cent of the total freight traffic of America.

RAILROAD engineers many years ago conquered the mighty mountains of Western Pennsylvania. With splendid vision and indefatigable effort they overcame the obstacles placed there by Nature and built with consummate skill the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Through forest and gorge, over hill and mountain and stream, those transportation pioneers conceived and ultimately developed a railroad of low grades and carefully wrought tangents which stands today as a monument to their genius—the shortest line between the west and the east.

Though the Alleghenies have thus been penetrated by the greatest highway of commerce in the world their matchless natural beauties remain unchanged and eternal—an unfailing source of inspiration and delight to all those who pass by.

The Packsaddle, Allegrippus Gorge, the Horseshoe Curve, Lewistown Narrows and the Gaps of the Susquehanna are all points of special interest in a great galaxy of mountain views of unexampled charm and splendor.

CHIROPRACTORS IN SESSION DISCUSS NEW STATE BOARD

COLUMBUS, June 5.—"The time is not far distant when the chiropractors and the state medical board will reach an amicable plan for dealing with the practitioners of chiropractic in Ohio," declared Dr. Paul H. Strand, Youngstown, newly elected president of the Ohio chiropractic association today.

"Chiropractors are only asking that they be permitted to determine who is fitted to practice chiropractic and who is not," continued President Strand.

"A board of chiropractic examiners entirely apart from the medical board is the only solution. It is unreasonable to expect the medical board to give justice to their competitors," said President Strand.

Other officers chosen at the meeting of the association, just closed at the Southern hotel here are: Dr. D. A. Williams, Ashtabula, first vice president; Dr. C C. Rutledge, Toledo, second vice president. Dr. P. D. Pottle, Dayton, secretary; Dr. R. C. Snow, Cleveland, financial secretary; Dr. J. D. Method, Toledo, treasurer.

ALLIANCE MAY BE FORMED BY JAPAN, GERMANY, RUSSIA

TOKIO, June 5—A new triple alliance of Russia, Japan and Germany is regarded by political observers here as one of the possible eventual outcomes of a preliminary official conference to which the Japanese cabinet will invite Commissioner Joffe, representing the Russian Soviet government, following its session tomorrow.

The Hochi, a well informed Japanese paper on opinion with the official circle, discussing the political significance of this economic move, suggests that far seeing Japanese leaders are building politically for the future.

The decision of the Japanese cabinet to confer with Joffe may be regarded as a great victory for the campaign conducted by Baron Goto former Mayor of Tokio, who resigned that office in order to urge an economic conference and agreement with Soviet Russia.

Goto, many times mentioned in connection with the premiership, thru forcing the cabinet to enter into Russian negotiations has placed himself in a stronger position politically than before.

He had the backing of various Japanese chambers of commerce and business interests in endeavoring to bring about a trade agreement with Russia.

Tests that have lasted nearly 12 years in Massachusetts have shown that the more cement there is used in concrete piling the greater its resistance to sea water.

Ailing Children Get Well on Syrup Pepsin

A small dose at bedtime brings relief and laughter by morning

HOSPITAL and doctor's records prove that 75 per cent of human illness has its origin in the intestinal canal, complicated with what is commonly called constipation. Realizing what that figure means, mothers should contrive methods of handling their children while they still control them that will prevent these future dangers. Teach children regularity of bowel movement, and be especially watchful of young girls. Insist on two passages a day until the age of 18, when one is usually sufficient. Give plenty of oranges and apples, plenty of butter because it lubricates the intestines, and encourage the drinking of water.

If you detect restlessness, belching, gas or wind on the stomach, sleeplessness, or lack of appetite, examine the tongue and you will find it coated, accompanied by unpleasant breath. The child is bilious, constipated. According to age, give from one-half to a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which children never object to taking as they like the taste. By morning the youngster will be well again. Likewise if the nostrils are stuffed up or there is persistent sneezing, a dose of Syrup Pepsin will break up the fever and cold.

Mrs. Geo. N. Colson of Bernard, Me., keeps her family well in that way, and Mrs. Ida A. Burkett of Carroll, La., who has been using Syrup Pepsin for a dozen years, has raised her three children on it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The formula, however, is on every package. Druggists have sold it with satisfaction to their customers for over 30 years, and it is now the largest selling family laxative in the world. Buy a bottle today. It will last you for months, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Kellogg's Bran is Guaranteed to give relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Relief from constipation, whether it be mild or chronic, will follow the regular, every-day eating of Kellogg's Bran. We have thousands of letters from former sufferers who tell us that the natural "bulk-action" of this wonderful cereal product has given relief they have not known for years. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will free the system from constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a composition in which bran is added. If constipation is to be permanently relieved, you must eat ALL BRAN—that's why your physician will recommend Kellogg's for constipation.

Constipation creates toxic conditions which poison the blood and every organ of the body. It slows you down mentally and physically, and creates sick headaches, nausea, bad breath, pimples—finally, in many cases, leading to Bright's disease, diabetes and other dreaded illnesses. You must fight constipation with Kellogg's Bran regularly if you want health!

You'll say Kellogg's Bran is really delicious—it has a nut like flavor that appeals to the most fastidious appetite. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled on hot or cold cereals or cooked with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. Be certain to eat at least two tablespoonfuls each day; as much with each meal in chronic cases. Kellogg's is delicious made into muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, griddle cakes. Recipes in every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels, clubs and restaurants in individual packages. It is sold by all grocers.

ALL IS NOT HARMONY

one. He sees the Republican party divided over President Harding's proposal for a world court. He is for Harding 100 per cent and fears that a divided party means a troublesome convention Taking his cue from the president's New York speech in which he conceded that he had no idea of making the world court a paramount issue, Mr Adams has started out to preserve harmony by making the world court a secondary matter All Republicans can agree on that kind of strategy a lot faster than on the world court itself.

Mr Adams reasons that the essential need of the hour is a united party else Mr Harding's chances of renomination to say nothing of the final campaign itself are adversely affected The way out which he suggests is to put domestic issues in front His strategy thus far has encountered no disapproval from the white house, in fact his relations there are as cordial as ever Mr Harding is being urged to soft pedal the world court idea on his western trip Thus far it is understood he has planned only one speech on the subject The effort to quiet him on that subject has been indirect but apparently successful tho the advocates of harmony would be even better satisfied if he forgot about it altogether. Here is their line of that

The world court is not a burning question No economic problems hang in the balance as a result of it no harm will be done by delay America has no lawsuits before the world court, the expenses of the court are being paid by the participating nations and are trivial indeed in amount, and, finally, the election of judges by the league of nations council and assembly has been accomplished without the aid of America in the past and there may not be vacancies or elections for eight or nine years. So why bother about it now and wreck the chances of Mr. Harding's election?

In all sincerity, the friends of Mr. Harding, including Chairman Adams, take that viewpoint. They see no objection to a resumption of the controversy after the 1924 election, for instance, as a delay of a year or so will give better opportunity for study of the whole question.

All would be serene if the Democrats could be persuaded to adopt the strategy of the Republican national committee but Democratic headquarters is not a bit more considerate of Mr. Harding's and Mr. Adams' troubles than was Republican headquarters when Woodrow Wilson was wrestling with a million and one embarrassing situations.

The strategy of the Republican national committee may succeed for a few months, until congress reconvenes but then the Democrats in the senate will see to it naturally that the world court proposal is not side tracked but kept in a primary instead of a secondary place. If they succeed in forcing Mr. Harding to an acknowledgment of indefinite delay they will make political capital out of it and charge him with surrender to a minority in his party. It is early to say what will happen but there's enough trouble wrapped up in the world court controversy to keep the senate talking about little else next autumn and winter and enough danger in it politically for Mr. Harding to bring about opposition at the national convention Harmony still prevails in Republican headquarters—that's the fact today but there's no telling how long it will last.

BRITISH NAVAL

other war comes along and there is a first-class naval battle.

Admiralty statistics show that the United States has 31 battleships compared with Great Britain's 18 and Japan's 11 Eight of the American ships are yet to be scrapped under the Washington Treaty, while 5 are already being dismantled In the case of Japan 5 ships are to be scrapped. When these scrapping ventures are completed the naval strength in battleships will be about equal and then will come a dispute as to the comparative efficiency of the various ships

France is reported as possessing only 9 battleships, while Italy has 5, Russia 4 and Germany 8.

Great Britain and the United States are each building two battleships

Great Britain and Japan are the only nations having battle cruisers, there being 4 in the British Navy and 7 in the Japanese including 3 which are to be scrapped

Britain is supreme in the light cruiser class, having 48, while 4 more are under construction. Japan ranks second in cruisers of the lighter type, having a fleet of 15 now in commission and 6 more projected. Italy has 10 in commission and 2 projected, while the United States has 9 in commission and 10 projected.

The United States holds the supremacy in torpedo boat destroyers. The figures are: Great Britain, 184; United States, 318; Japan, 72; France, 50; Italy, 52, with 26 building, and Germany, 16.

In submarines the United States also leads, the figures being as follows: United States, 104 and 27 building; Great Britain, 66 and 8 building; Japan, 40 and 11 building; France, 47 and 15 building; Italy, 43, and Russia 17 and 3 building.

These are the official figures given out by the British Government; but, like all figures, they may prove anything. Expert naval strategists can prove from these figures that the British Navy is tottering on the brink of collapse, while just as eminent strategists can prove that the British Navy is still supreme. Take your choice.

tions of one of the most highly organized drug smuggling rings yet uncovered in this region.

Baker, Federal agents charge, furnished their investigators with narcotics. Letters were mailed to him, it is charged, at his headquarters requesting that he send $5 worth of "Mabel" and the same amount of "Clarence"—underworld "code" for morphine and cocaine, respectively. The drugs were sent to them at Minneapolis, the agents charge. They were paid for with marked bills.

When Baker was arrested in his shanty home, near the Canadian border, no drugs were found on his person or premises A number of letters, in which reference was made to shipments of "Mabel," "Mary," "Mud" and "Clarence," "Henry," "Harry" and "Horses," were found Drug smugglers, the agents explain, use words beginning with the letter "M" when ordering or otherwise communicating relative to morphine; words beginning with "H" when talking about heroin and with "C" when discussing cocaine.

The agents also found a drawer in a ramshackle bureau jammed full of banknotes.

The arrest, at St. Paul, of a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Pearl Woods, also is expected to prove an important factor in ferreting out the other members of the alleged ring. This woman was said to have had a considerable quantity of "dope" in her possession when arrested. She is alleged to have acted as a "business agent" for the alleged ring.

The smugglers, it is believed by Federal investigators, operated across the international border at International Falls. Drugs are alleged to have been smuggled in by them across the border at that point in vast quantities. It is also believed that the ring has made use of Lake Superior and Rainy Lake. Small motor boats are used extensively, the agents claim, by the drug runners who operate on the lakes.

Operations of the ring are said to have reached Chicago, the Twin Cities, Milwaukee, Kansas City and Pittsburgh

Pneumatic pressure obtained from the motor can be used to operate an automobile clutch, brakes and gear shifts by employing recently invented mechanism.

It has been estimated that there are more than a billion tons of coal in two deposits that have been discovered in the Belgian Kongo, one being 16 feet thick.

The Matter With Henry

THE Independent Order of B'Rith Abraham, in annual session at Atlantic City, passed resolutions which, among other things, charged Henry Ford with financing the Ku Klux Klan. No proof or evidence was cited. The coincidence of Ford and the Ku Klux on the subject of Jews and Ford's vast wealth were deemed sufficient bases for a charge.

While Mr. Ford may be entirely innocent of the connection, suspicion turns to him much more readily than it would to other persons in the same circumstances. This fact brings out what is the matter with Henry as a presidential possibility. He is known to be progressive and humanitarian in his impulses. While eminently sound and successful as a business man his untrained imagination in public affairs might lead him and his sponsors a sorry chase.

Who knows but what Ford's idealism would be captivated by the organization which is chartered on one of his hobbies and which makes a grandiose, if hypocritical, profession of fidelity to the flag and the eternal verities? The father of the flivver once publicly expressed disdain for the value of historical knowledge. This was even after his ignorance of history had cost him the biggest known folly of his life, the peace argosy.

Henry has enough steam to leave his mark in history. But steam running amuck is worse than no steam at all. It is as likely as not to roll off a precipice.

A Devastating Idiocy

WHEN summer furs came into vogue they were first laughed at, then endured and then worn. Their costliness and effrontery of common sense were expected to condemn them to a short career.

But the scoffers reckoned not with the artifices of fashion, which is more celebrated for its feuds with common sense than for its friendliness to any good cause. The summer fur lived on, and countless little animals with an expectancy of natural life in forest and field died that their shiny pelts might grace milady's neck on a July afternoon tho milady would have been more comfortable and have looked quite as charming without them.

Now, we are told by the American Blue Cross Society, the summer fur is not only going strong but mere neckpieces will graduate into fur coats, fur-trimmed coats and "jacquettes" for summer wear. It is as if fashion had set out not only to make her slaves ridiculous but to see how ridiculous she could make them. We can hardly lay all the responsibility on fashion, however. "Production" has come to be the battle cry of industry and "turnover" its rule of prosperity.

Summer furs will enrich their makers tho they strip this continent of every tiny fur-bearing creature that endeavors to maintain a precarious existence beside a ditch. What a pity that our civilization would indulge its vanity and commerce fatten its jowls on the devastation of nature!

The German Tax Scandal

GERMAN wage earners are paying 20 times as much taxes as the industrialists, according to the Socialist organ, Vorwaerts, which cites figures in proof, and by way of solution advocates that the Government conscript a percentage of all capitalized holdings.

Whether such treatment would effect a cure is conjectural. Rumor has persisted as to the trickery and dishonesty of the German Government's tax policy. The Vorwaerts' article lends color to the charge that Big Business has been let off lightly. Yet Ferrero, the Italian historian, in his analysis of the European situation declared that the practice of German industrial leaders in evading taxes was indispensable if the German bubble were not to burst.

Be that as it may, and without defending tax evasion in Germany with or without the Government's connivance, it may be observed that the German wage earners in paying the brunt of the taxes are only carrying the load that wage earners everywhere bear. It is trite to say the ultimate consumer pays the tax, but it is a fact. The tragedy of it is that statesmen do not comprehend it. Taxes are levied, here in the United States as elsewhere, with the stubborn, short-sighted refusal of those in power to realize that the last man in the economic line must pay.

Business, when taxed, puts up the price. The renter pays the tax on realty, the shipper and traveler the tax on railroads. Is there any doubt today in any housewife's mind as to who pays the tariff on sugar, or to the man who buys a suit of clothes as to who pays the duty on wool? Moreover, taxes grow and multiply in the process of passing on so that when they reach their destination they have attained abnormal size.

Conscription, capital levy, or the harsher but truer word, confiscation, has an ugly, mutinous sound, but it is a threat of wide currency today. What the German Socialist newspaper is urging a former Premier of England is predicting. The scandal of taxation is worldwide. It is chargeable, largely, to official obtuseness and extravagance. The remedy is official intelligence, vigilance and drastic economy. We must either have the remedy or the reckoning.

table so magnates may keep an eye on the market, eat and transact business details. That is perhaps why there is more dyspepsia in Wall Street than any other New York area.

There are a great many men, too, who extend luncheon over to the tea hour by sitting around the coffee lounges. Breakfast is snatched on the run here and about the only meal where one relaxes is at dinner. And, if he is dining out, there is always the exciting moment wondering whether or not he has enough money to pay the check.

The Professional golfist occupies a strange role at country clubs. On the links he is in supreme command. He may fraternize and even call people by their first names. Women may even walk with him arm in arm on the course, but when the sun goes down he becomes a sort of social outcast. He does not mingle with members of the club nor is he invited to play bridge or dance. This is difficult for the American professional but the English player belongs to the traditional school of holding himself, with a sort of pride, below his patrons.

There is a new fad of photography that is being exhibited in the Fifth Avenue galleries. People are having their hands photographed. Their fingers are adorned, as their wrists. The hand is supposed to portray a delicate grace and outline of character. Some of the high priced photographers charge $100 a sitting—or is it holding?—for hand photographs.

There are dozens of little shops just now in Times Square that are given over to the sale of long ear rings that ladies wear. They are getting longer all the time. Some of the ladies wear only one.

Almost anything can happen in New York. Walking along Forty Second street a woman in front of me gave an excited squeal and began limping. I saw one of her shoes had dropped to the sidewalk. Just what a gentleman should do under those circumstances rather new [illegible]. I picked it up and looked a lot dumber than usual. She snatched it out of my hand. "That's mine!" she exclaimed. "O!" I said, and handing it over to her, sneaked across the street to gaze aimlessly in a window. You know, foolish like.

QUESTIONS

I say to Dave Dickens, who works for me now, "Go, water the chickens and curry the cow." With questions and queries, all useless and vain, my spirit he wearies and drives me insane. "Oh where shall I lead them, those blue-blooded hens, to water and feed them down there by the fens?" I'll curry, beshrew it, the cow's furrowed hide, but where shall I do it—in barn, or outside? And where are the brushes, and where is the comb?" So inquiry gushes from Dave's sorrel dome. I long for a fellow who says "Yea" or "Nay," when he hears me bellow, "Go, harvest the hay," when to him I mutter, "Get busy, you chump, and wrap up the butter and varnish the pump." I say to this Dickens, "Go, bring me a drink," he bleats in the thickens, "I feel on the blink." He ought to act chipper, instead he looks up, and asks "a dipper will do, or a cup." He goes on to chatter, "What drink do you wish? Some tea in a platter, or milk in a dish?" The oil of [illegible] is fit for a king, pray [illegible] master, what drink shall I bring?" Oh, why are men swinging conundrums all day, when life is still winging so swiftly away?

GERMANY TO MAKE TENTATIVE OFFER

BERLIN, June 5 — Germany's new reparations note will not name any definite figure leaving that decision to the international experts, according to today's plans of the cabinet.

Industrialists are willing to support the government if it will give guarantees for 50,000,000,000 gold marks, but the Socialists demand that the note not offer more than 30,000,000,000.

The industrialists suggest fifty billion as an elastic figure, allowing the international experts to determine if Germany is able to pay that much.

MEN LIKE 'NICE GIRL'

except to be shocked. You may wear the most outrageous clothes, you may drink, smoke and use expressions which would not even have been understood by one's grandmother, but so long as you are completely unmoved by any deeds or opinions, so long as you remain physically incapable of such a thing as a blush you will be regarded, in some circles, as amusing and up to date.

"Such a fashion of course, fills the life of the girl who does not follow it with problems. She hears a resque story and is at once placed in an abominable dilemma. If she pretends not to understand there is the danger that the teller of the story may continue to elaborate the undesirable. If she does understand it, or pretends to do so, she is at once credited with far more knowledge than she possesses and is therefore considered fair game for further shafts of 'wit.'

"She may, of course, walk from the room without replying. But have you ever tried to walk from a room like that? It is not an easy task. It needs greater courage and self-control than is given t omost girls.

'Again, she may go to a dance which is attended by a woman whom obviously she ought not to meet. If she stays she runs the risk of being classed as belonging to a set which she may regard with distaste. If she leaves, she may be regarded as prudish, or even cruel.

"Smoking and drinking are no essentials for the debutante, but when she first comes in contact with them on the scale they are practiced in certain London homes she will probably think that unless she follows suit she will be regarded as demode. I know many girls who loathe cocktails, who choke when they smoke a cigarette and who certainly do not understand one quarter of the meaning of their own remarks who yet continue to make martyrs of themselves in this way because they fear that otherwise they may be regarded as impossibly out of date.

"That is where they make their greatest mistake. [illegible] some men may be for a moment attracted by such girls [illegible] find such a girl [illegible] a dance or two, [illegible] champagne. But [illegible] hearts they despise [illegible]

And so I [illegible] stay as you [illegible] will find that [illegible] [illegible] cocktail [illegible] charm [illegible] found [illegible] will be an [illegible] but know, it is today.

NEWCOMERS WOMAN

that the husband did not fall asleep until early Monday morning because he feared that she might leave. When he awoke at daylight he discovered his wife had gone and immediately began a search for her.

A searching party was formed to find the woman. They searched around Newcomerstown and down the Newcomerstown paved road for miles but without avail.

Believing that she might have gone to the river to end her life the party searched along the banks of the Tuscarawas above where she had jumped in. Mr. Sheets happened to notice the floating body while he, with the other men were working.

After the body was taken from the water, the Jones ambulance was called and the body was taken to the undertaking parlors where it was prepared for burial.

Boats equipped with grab hooks in charge of William Lyons, were about to be put into use when word was received at Mr. Lyons' home that the body had been recovered.

How the body came to be floating in such deep water is a mystery to the men who found it. As a rule a body comes to the surface in three to nine days.

Mrs. Sondles had been in poor health for some time and it was necessary several months ago to confine her to the state hospital for treatment.

Her maiden name was Ella Williams. She was born in West Lafayette. She had been a resident of Newcomerstown with her family for years. She was a hard working woman and was highly respected. Besides the husband she leaves six children. They are: James, 17; Wanda, 15; Mildred, 13; Geraldine, 8; Robert, 5 and the baby boy, aged 3, all of the late home.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the late home with the Rev. M. L. Oliver in charge. Burial will be made at West Lawn cemetery.

SOVIET SPOKESMAN IGNORES AMERICAN VIEWS IN POLITICS

By S. D. Weyer

BERLIN, June 5—"The American public be dammed," was the attitude taken today by Karl Radek Soviet Russia's chief propagandist, who is now in Germany keeping a nimble finger upon the pulse of the collapsing empire.

Radeks standing with Moscow is shown by the fact that he probably will succeed Krestinsky as Russian ambassador to Germany. Radek is noted for the bluntness of his statements. He is one diplomat with whom correspondents can speak frankly.

"Why did the Soviet government execute Arch-Bishop Butkiewicz and horrify the American people just at the moment when America had begun to show a sympathetic attitude toward Russia?" the correspondent was asked.

'The American people,' responded the Russian, "are suffering from megalomania. They are suffering from swollen heads. They think the sun should rise and set at their bidding.' answered Radek.

"The American public has been spoiled by Germany. The government does not dare to do or say a single thing without previously ascertaining if it will please the American government and the American people.

"Soviet Russia does not give a damn what America thinks of the Russian executives. They order such acts as they believe necessary and expedient for the good of the country and the success of domestic policies."

Radek waved aside all warning hints that the Soviet government someday might regret such defiance of the public opinion of the country that won history's greatest war. Radek said he realized the importance of his remarks. He said he did not mind the public airing of his opinions.

Radek said he believed Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary is personally wedded to an anti-Russian policy. He expressed the opinion that Russo-English conciliation would prevail and that there would be no breach between the two countries.

"What do you think of the speeches in Warsaw when Marshal Foch was hailed as 'The greatest living pacifist'," Radek was asked.

The Soviet envoy pondered a moment and then replied dryly:

"When the whole world consists of a bunch of yeggs and pirates why shouldn't an individual have the right to call himself a pacifist?"

Asked about the physical condition of Lenine, the Russian official answered:

"We hope he will live a long time. But if he must die, we can assure you his death will not make the slightest difference so far as the Soviet regime at Moscow is concerned. You ask who will succeed him. Perhaps no individual will be his successor. It is possible the central executive committee of the Communist party may take over the functions Lenine exercised."

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF MARINE OFFICER PUZZLES OFFICIALS

TOKIO, June 5—The body of Lieut. Col. Earl H. Ellis, distinguished officer of the United States marine crops, who came to an unexpected death in the Caroline Islands May 12, will not be sent back to the United States for burial, according to notification received by the American embassy today from the foreign office.

Capt. Lyman Cotton a navy attachee was notified that the body could not be shipped because of climatic conditions and the length of time necessary before it would reach its destination. There are no embalming facilities in the islands. Consequently, Col. Ellis will be buried where he came to his unexplained death in the islands.

WASHINGTON, June 5 — Announcement in Tokio that the body of Lieut. Col. Earl H. Eilis would be buried in the Caroline islands, where he met an unexplained death on May 12, only served today to deepen the mystery surrounding his untimely end.

Altho nearly a month has passed since the death of the marine officer in the "forbidden islands," that are under Japanese mandate, no word has reached Washington yet as to the cause of Col. Ellis' death. First reports that he had been "accidentally killed" have neither been confirmed or denied, despite cabled requests from Washington for information.

The mystery surrounding Col. Ellis' presence in the Caroline islands, an area barred to foreign travelers by the Japanese foreign office, likewise has never been cleared up.

On the rolls of the marine corps, Col. Ellis was carried as "on leave." His leave had lasted from 1920 to the date of his death, but he was still on the active rolls of the marine corps.

BERNHARDT'S BED AND STAGE JEWELS TO BE AUCTIONED

PARIS, June 5.—The late Sarah Bernhardt's great gold mahogany bed with its royal canopy is drawing hundreds of American tourists to the exposition of the artist's belongings which is being held prior to their public sale at the Georges Petit Gallery, June 11, 12, and 13. The proceeds will be used to pay off debts against the estat.

"Divine Sarah's" stage jewelry makes a glittering display. Included are the decorations worn on her uniform as L'aiglon, the brilliant head ornaments worn in the role of Cleopatra as well as many rings and necklaces Madame Bernhardt always identified with the parts she played. Curiously enough there is not a single genuine precious stone in the lot. Close friends of the actress explained that she was forced to sell her valuable jewelry during the last few years to pay her actual living expenses.

Three pieces of sculpture by Bernhardt will be sold under the hammer. One is a masque in marble of Sarah's husband, Jacques DeMala. Another is a marble of her sister, Regina Bernhardt. The third statue also in marble is a group of three figures entitled "After the Tempest."

Mme. Bernhardt was passionately fond of collecting Venetian glass and this collection, from an artistic standpoint is probably the most valuable of the lot.

RATTLESNAKES IN BURNING FOREST HINDER FIREMEN

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 5.—An army of rattlesnakes last night prevented fire fighters from patrolling a burning woods west of Thurmont in the Catocline mountains.

The fire, which started on what is known as "Rattlesnake hill," has burned over an area of over 400 acres of timber. The flames are driving scores of the reptiles from the underbrush.
